Harrison's Followers Admit That Blaine
Is in to Stay.

INSTRUCTED DELEGATES DESERTING
THE PRESIDENT.

The Conflict Increasing in Bitterness —
Quay and Clarkson Confident of Blaine's Nomination—New Makes a Gallant Fight for Harrison—Kearns and Arriving and On the Way.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 5.—Prominent Republicans from all parts of the country are arriving to-day on every train, and the Presidential contest is growing in interest each hour. The contest grows bitter and the two factions into which the party is divided are beginning to say harsh things about each other. The few leaders who have no particular presidential preference view all this with considerable seriousness, for no matter who may be the nominees the contest has the potential to become bitter things have been said that much bad feeling will inevitably be engendered. It is no exaggeration to refer to the present situation as a fight for mastery between Blaine and Harrison, for whether by his will or against his will Mr. Blaine has been forced by his friends into the position of a passive candidate. The Harrison people are saying many caustic things about the Secretary's position and insisting that good faith will compel him to write another letter of declination.

The intensity of the situation may be understood when it is stated that the representatives of the press are questioned every hour by anxious party leaders as to whether any delegation has been made or is expected at Washington from the Secretary of State.

In this political contest of the hour each faction is relying greatly on the press and the impressions thereby to be conveyed to the country, and both factions have improvised a sort of literary bureau by designating certain plausible and convincing gentlemen to meet the interviewers on his daily round.

QUAY CONFIDENT.

Senator Mathews was accompanied by Senator Stockbridge of Michigan, Philetus Sawyer of Wisconsin, H. R. Quay of New York, and others arrived 10:40 this morning. Quay went direct with his party to the West hotel, registered there, and at once began the center of attraction for Blaine men with a sprinkling of Alger enthusiasts also crowding around him. The budding boom for Rush for Vice-President took a back seat temporarily in the front, and the National Committee to-morrow morning.

R. C. Kerens, who arrived last evening, was the most ardent in his efforts to make known that the Quay party has a distinct understanding with the Michigan candidate that assures him the vacant place on the ticket in the event of Blaine's nomination.

"I think Reed of Maine will be temporary chairman as it looks now, with McKinley for permanent chairman. From the Missouri side, we are looking up to the National Committee to-morrow morning."

R. C. Kerens, who arrived last evening, was the most ardent in his efforts to make known that the Quay party has a distinct understanding with the Michigan candidate that assures him the vacant place on the ticket in the event of Blaine's nomination.

"There is too much personal abuse of can- didates being indulged in without occasion, and it cannot be endured. I believe that the Quay party has a distinct understanding with the Michigan candidate that assures him the vacant place on the ticket in the event of Blaine's nomination.

Senator Quay was seen by the Post-Dispatch reporter on his way to the station, and said: "I believe that Mr. Blaine will be nominated on the first ballot by the votes of at least 600 delegates, who will name him as their choice when the roll of States and Territories is called in convention."

"It certainly looks like now, as up to this morning no communication has been received from Secretary Blaine to stop the spontaneous Blaine sentiment now spreading over the country.

"No. I have no fresh Blaine developments to report, but you are more to be advised now, and the time the convention opens. I have nothing to say in regard to Gen. Alger, except that I consider him a strong man, and one who would add strength to a Blaine ticket. I cannot speak yet of the situation here, as I have had no definite information on that point."

Immediately after breakfast Quay had a conference with Gen. Clarkson, J. Sloat Fassett and others of the Blaine men, and afterwards saw Senator Washburn, the local Blaine leader, who was as kind as the to the movement in the Northwest.

Stockbridge was also seen and said it was his belief that Blaine would be the nominee of the Minneapolis Convention. He stated that Michigan's first choice was Blaine, and that the Nebraska delegation had been instructed for Harrison, who would go to Blaine if convinced that the latter would accept the nomination which now seemed an assured fact. Senator Sawyer of Wisconsin still flaunted the Rush banner to the air, but said that present appearances pointed strongly to the nomination of Blaine.

A LITTLE BLAINE DINNER.

Senator Washburn gave a little Blaine dinner at his palatial residence last night, at which Clarkson, Fassett, Payne and the other members of the Blaine men were just the custodians of the Blaine men, were honored guests. Those who were present are rather reticent about the proceedings and maintain that it was simply a little social gathering. It is considered significant that the Blaine men, their friends who are in the Harrison camp were invited, and it is generally believed that the Blaine plan of campaign was pretty carefully mapped out. It was determined to open up Blaine headquarters somewhere in a sort of quiet corner, far from the world, to draw inspiration and instructions. This action will be taken tentatively and not openly. The determination to force Blaine into the fight and keep him there is making the Harrison men nervous. They are getting extremely sensitive and touchy. Seeing every tree they see a Blaine spook skulking. As instance of this is cited the kick that has just been registered by John C. New and his supporters against the big club mass meeting to be held in the Convention Hall this evening. Just after the convention was over a large crowd of Harrison men, the Harrisonians profess to have discovered in this a big scheme to boom Blaine just when it would do the most good. They assert that the sub-committee refused to permit the meeting because it would name the speakers. This was concocted by President John Good, now of the Minneapolis State League of Clubs, whose pet idea the mass meeting for the spreading of Republican doctrines in the Northwest was to be. It was believed that the principal speakers will be Gov. John C. New, who is one of the leaders of the anti-Harrison movement. This fact is considered by the Harrisonians as significant of the purpose to start a great Blaine boom just after the convention assembled.

SCORCH CONFER.

John C. New and A. L. Conger, the Ohio Blaine leader, had a bit of an encounter in one of the corridors of the West Hotel last night. There has been a fair blood between these two men who were engaged in a fierce battle for control of the Indianapolis delegation, and the strong aquiline features, and the empty sleeves of Powell and Co. were well displayed. Both men have been separated by forces of political circumstances. They had been talking at one another through the newspapers a good deal, but until last night had not met.

"I know what is the matter with you, Conger," said New. "You did not get your man appointed postmaster at Akron. That is all there is to it, and this is the explanation of your anti-Harrison attitude."

The Harrison followers held an informal caucus last night at the West, but nothing definite was done pending the arrival of the Harrison delegation, which is due to-morrow morning. It is now given out that J. Scott Fassett of New York has declined the temporary chairmanship, which had been tentatively tendered him by the sub-committee. He is preferred to remain on the committee.

HIT WITH STONES.

Strikers Attack Men Who Attempt to Displace Them.

VIOLENCE MARKS THE RENEWAL OF THE STEAMBOAT STRIKE.

A Non-Union Fireman Beaten and Thrown Into the River—Fifty Policemen Sent to Quell the Disturbance—Capt. Mason's Order Against the Federation of Labor Causes Trouble.

The engineers, firemen and roustabouts of the Anchor Line have gone out on a strike, and the steamer City of St. Louis, advertised to leave to-day for New Orleans, is tied up at the foot of Chestnut street, and Capt. Keith can not tell when he will be able to get her out, as she has been held up by men who have taken to looting her who in ten hours make very little showing in diminishing the car loads of freight that is piled up along the levee for blocks. Several days ago Capt. Mason, President of the Anchor Line, issued an order forbidding his commander of each of the Anchor Line boats to employ no engineers who belonged to the American Federation of Labor Union. As every engineer on this line are members of the union they were informed that unless they withdrew from the union their services would no longer be needed. The same orders were finally given out to the firemen, and all of them, sixty in number, have given up their positions rather than withdraw from the union. On the third day withdrew, and last night even roustabouts joined in, and the strike refused to go to work.

STONED EACH OTHER.

Early this morning about seventy-five non-union roustabouts marched down Chestnut street to the property of the Anchor Line. Later this morning the Levee they were charged upon by the union men and volley after volley of stones were poured into them and they were compelled to fall back two blocks from the river, being followed by the union men who never ceased hurling rocks and bricks at them until the crowd had dispersed. The police were at breakfast at the time, but learning of the trouble, fifty officers were detailed to the scene of the trouble and patrolled the property of the Anchor Line. Later this morning Theodore McCann, and engineer on the steamer Monroe, withdrew from the union and agreed to take the City of St. Louis out, but when a non-union fireman started aboard he was met at the door by the union men who, union man, who proceeded to give him a severe thumping and during the scuffle he was thrown from the gang plank into the river, but as the water was only about three feet deep he walked out and ran down the Levee for some distance past the pier. Two police have been stationed at the foot of Chestnut street, one on each gang plank and two on the wharfboat where the Steamer City of St. Louis is being loaded. The union firemen, engineers and roustabouts have congregated on the Levee front, and as they are quiet, refuse to be dispersed.

THE STRIKERS' VERSION.

Said the head engineer of the City of St. Louis: "We are not to blame for this strike, and Capt. Mason can lay his loss upon no one but himself. The engineers are paid $10 per month and we are satisfied with our salaries, but we do not receive the same pay as the men of the American Federation Labor Union, and after we were informed that we would have to withdraw or resign, we chose to either resign or withdraw, and the roustabouts followed us out, as they belong to branches of the same union. Capt. Mason is endeavoring to break up the union, and will be compelled to work for just what we can get. St. Louis is even a weaker union than the New Orleans, and we are not allowed the privilege of returning to work the 'Anchor' line will have to tie up, that is all it is in it." Capt. Mason was walking up and down the wharf, and the firemen and roustabouts, the freight being loaded pound by pound, when he was accosted by a Post-DISPATCH reporter, who asked when the City of St. Louis would go out. He said:

"That I can't tell you. We are due to go out to-day, and as we have no crew and only a few laborers working it is impossible to say when she will leave, although we will try and clear to-morrow evening. I did give orders that no union engineers be allowed to work, but they will not be compelled to work for just what we can get, to marry Mrs. Mueller before he dies, so that she will inherit his property. The license could not be issued.

CAPTAIN MASON TALKS.

"That's the only trouble we will experience will be caused by our delay as we are not losing money every day, and the cost of living increases so rapidly that we will worry through some way and endeavor to get our boats out the best way possible."

"It is quite an ugly one and the firemen, engineers and roustabouts claim that they will not return to work unless Capt. Mason revokes his order, and that they will delay getting the power of the present non-union men from taking a boat out."

ENGINEERS MEET.

The engineers of the American Federation of Labor held a meeting this afternoon in room 26 of the Vandeventer building, and the firemen, roustabouts and longshoremen, Unions were represented by committee. The engineers agreed to remain idle all summer unless Capt. Mason would agree to take the City of St. Louis out, and the firemen and committees from the other unions agreeing to assist them and to stay out as long as Capt. Mason refused to employ union men.

Encounter With a Panther.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 5.—Richard Adams and Simon Turner, two fishermen, living at Hot Springs, had a terrible encounter with a panther on the banks of the Ouachita River, near that place, Sunday night. The two men had been very successful in fishing, and had a large box nearly full of fish. During the night they were awakened by the panther that was devoured by the two men. Adams had a long strip of steel wire in his pocket, and when the panther had wounded his arm, Adams brought back Fisher will never have a trial in this court.

ANOTHER FLOOD PREDICTED.

The River to Reach 38 Feet by Sunday With the June Rise Coming.

Considerable excitement was occasioned at the Merchants' Exchange this morning by the report that the June rise of the Missouri River was coming madly down stream, and at Platte, S. D., it was rising at the rate of half a foot an hour. D. J. Herndon, in charge of the weather Bureau at once wired the weather department at Pierre and Bismarck, S. D., and is anxiously awaiting a reply. "If the June rise of the Missouri is on its way down," said Mr. Herndon, "there is no telling what will be the result, as the Upper Mississippi is rising very rapidly, and at this point the river has risen a foot to day and by Sunday morning it will register 36 feet, or as high as it has been during this last flood. I am waiting to hear from Pierre and if it is substantiated that the June rise is coming down, we will witness one of the greatest floods of this age."

Proposed Important Change in School Board Rules.

At the called meeting of the School Board for next Tuesday, it is to consider again the change in the rules with board upon one very important action. It is the rule which at present requires bids for all new work and all changes and repairs above $100. The committee on rules has recommended to the limit of contract work be raised to $300. This change was made by the Committee on Rules in effecting the change in the committee. Assent was given, a few strokes of the pen, and the rule was adopted.

The real fight has been postponed until the rule comes before the board for consideration. The expenses of the committee on rules are not forgotten. The old Building Committee is still in existence, and will be compelled to work for just what we can get. Encounter With a Panther.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 5.—Richard Adams and Simon Turner, two fishermen, living at Hot Springs, had a terrible encounter with a panther on the banks of the Ouachita River, near that place, Sunday night. The two men had been very successful in fishing, and had a large box nearly full of fish. During the night they were awakened by the panther that was devoured by the two men. Adams had a long strip of steel wire in his pocket, and when the panther had wounded his arm, Adams brought back Fisher will never have a trial in this court.

Judge Fisher heard the motion for alimony in the Goddard divorce case in Court Room No. 2 this morning and made an order allowing Mrs. Goddard $40 a month alimony while the suit was pending, and ordered her husband to pay her $100 additional within ninety days, with which to prosecute the following list:

GRADUATE.
Janet Evelyn Isabel Chapman, Julia Emile Cox, Anna Norris Dowler, Charlotte Lester, Mary May Hudson, Harriet Palmer Lester, and Mary Miller.

The programme, which was quite short and interesting, was opened with a chorus by the "My Sweetie" girls. After the singing, "My Sweetie," followed a carefully prepared address of welcome was read by Miss Mary Semple Scott, the classmate of the young graduate, who is very popular with her mates, "Miss Again, Glad Summer Sun," a solo by Miss Anna Bell, and a duet by the "Clue Will," by Miss Mary McKittrick, Mendelson's beautiful song, "May Anna," by Miss Anna Bell.

Graduate Mr. George F. Goddard, then took the stand and stated that he had owned one share of stock in the Goddard Flour Mill Co. before it was organized in February, 1890, and that he had sold it to Mr. James B. Marshall, the former president of the institution, for $100. Mr. Goddard had been separated from his wife for six months, and he had paid her $300 a month, a sum which he said was more than she deserved, and that he had paid her $300 a month for the last two months.

Mr. Goddard identified another check which was handed her by Mr. Kerr as that was not made out to the address of the plaintiff, and that she could not make out the month. Mr. Kerr stated that he had paid her $300 a month for the last two months.

THE RAGING RIVERS

Another Big Rise Coming Down the Arkansas.

GOOMY PROSPECT AHEAD OF THE COTTON PLANTERS.

Farm Lands Ruined—No Crop Can Be Raised Next Year—Work of Relief Along the Lower Mississippi—Danger Past at Kansas City—Flood Losses in Illinois.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 2.—A big rise is on the way down from Van Buren, which, it is said, will increase the volume of water in the Arkansas River at this point at least one foot higher than the highest point reached last month.

The gravity of this announcement is only understood by those who have seen the condition of the river bottoms from here to the Mississippi. To add another foot of water to the already inundated lands means disaster from which the planters will not recover for years. The floods have already done about all the damage possible in the way of carrying out buildings and bridges and the coming rise will find little prey, but the damage to the soil will be incalculable. Farms that bloomed with cotton and corn will become jungles of drift-wood and debris, and willows. It is said that not a single farm along the lower White and Arkansas Rivers can be successfully cultivated next season.

Meantime the appeals for help are meeting answer as rapidly as possible. The main body of the needy are situated along the White and Arkansas Rivers near the eastern line of the State. Relief has been sent from Helena and Memphis.

DETROIT SUBMERGED.

A DELUGE OF RAIN FLOODED THE CITY LAST NIGHT.

Detroit, Mich., June 3.—For several days past rain has fallen at intervals, but last night it began to pour down and within one hour 3.10 inches had been precipitated in this city. It is still raining, the precipitation up to 9 o'clock this morning being 3.44 inches. The storm centered in and was heaviest in the eastern and northern parts of the state of Lake Huron and South Lake Erie. This morning reports of damage by backwash, which were unable to carry off mud and sand, were coming in from all parts of the city, stores and residences collap- ing everywhere. A flood of mud and water was done to their contents. On many thoroughfares the car lines were covered to a depth of a foot or more, the cars running through the mud and sludge. The damage by water in Detroit will be very large.

Grand Rapids also suffered severely by the heavy downpour of rain. The farms on the lowlands throughout are under water. The crops are beaten down, streams swollen and roads impassable. The amount of damage by heavy washout is reported at Ada, on the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railroad.

AT OTHER POINTS.

HOMES RUINED—DANGER PASSED AT KANSAS CITY.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 3.—The floods which have prevailed in this locality for three days began to subside yesterday, and the waters along the streams have found their way into the channels, leaving the submerged houses filled with mud three inches deep. When the occupants returned yesterday they found everything ruined, the beds, carpets and chairs covered with a thick coat of mud. The streets are muddy, washed out and the brick pavements undermined and worthless until replaced. The damage to the additions to the city is estimated to be not less than $100,000, nearly all of which must be borne by the laboring class.

LOSSER IN ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 3.—Secretary of the State Board of Health Dr. W. F. Kelly yesterday received return of flood losses from nineteen Illinois counties more or less affected by the Mississippi Valley inundation. Of these the most serious are Monroe and Randolph. In these two counties there is an area of square miles under two feet of water, 88,000 acres of cultivated lands are damaged to the amount of $1,350,000. More than 1,000 families have been driven from their homes, and many of them are absolutely destitute. It is estimated that it will require at least $100,000 to meet the cost of relief to these people until they can again become self-sustaining. The two counties specially mentioned are the only ones comprised in the entire region below East Louis.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trade Directors this afternoon G. C. Moore, W. S. Ladd, J. H. Dill, W. H. Smith, and M. C. Mitchell were appointed a Relief Committee to secure money and supplies for the flood sufferers of the South.

DANGEROUS FAST.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 3.—In this city the danger of a flood is passed, for the Missouri River is falling. Trains going east were somewhat delayed this morning, due to washouts caused by the heavy rains, but it was stated by the railroad people that the trains would be running on regular time in a day or two.

LIGHT WITHOUT HEAT.
How it May Be Produced Artificially by Aid of Electricity.

From Electricity.

When a spark passes between the terminals of a Leyden jar it is not what it seems to be, but a series of sparks oscillating with enormous rapidity, back and forth between the two.

The theory is very analogous to those set up in the air by a violin string which has been set in vibration.

In case of the vibrations, the energy is given in all directions into space. In the case of the other vibrations, they also radiate into space, giving off power proportional to the magnitude of the vibrations.

As in the case of sound vibrations, the range within which our faculties are active in the vibrations is exceedingly limited, for if they be either too rapid or too slow we hear no sound, so in the case of the other vibrations, the range is also limited.

Our sensitivities respond also limited, but to a less extent. Maxwell, in his beautiful electromagnetism theory, postulated that the other vibrations, which are produced in the air by electric currents, could not be detected by us, because they would produce upon the retina of the eye the sensation of light, or, in other words, the light would be too bright.

The phenomenon in which the vibrations of the ether are the rapidity of the other vibrations, is known as the "ether theory."

It is the ether theory which postulates that the ether vibrations are too rapid and strong enough they would produce upon the retina of the eye the sensation of light, or, in other words, the light would be too bright.

The ether theory is the only one which can account for the same phenomenon, differing only in the lesser frequency of oscillations.

However, the ether theory is not supported by any experimental demonstration.

It lacked experimental demonstration until Dr. Hertz of Karlsruhe, a few years ago, set its truth beyond question by reproducing in the laboratory, with slower electromagnetic oscillations, the same phenomena of light, including interference, resonance, diffraction, refraction, etc. It is found that the ether vibrations are produced by the discharge from a Leyden jar bears a definite relation to the capacity or size of the jar, that as the jar becomes larger the oscillations become more rapid. Following out this law of increased rapidity with smaller jars, it has been calculated that the number of vibrations of the ether between the oscillations would reach the rapidity of those producing light or in other words, it would be light.

Now, in our ordinary methods of producing light, we have to set up vibrations of all degrees of rapidity, from those producing no light, to those producing light, and finally to those which produce heat, and finally to those to which the eye responds. All except the last are useless for our present purposes, and our present methods of illumination are therefore exceedingly wasteful.

It is as though in an endeavor to produce light over an organ, we were compelled to press every key on the keyboard from upper C to the lowest note, and the result would be that the instrument would be enormously out of proportion to that which would be required could we sound the whole gamut in order to obtain a very small amount of light.

This is the only way in which these ether vibrations may be set up. If a current of electricity may be passing a conductor be caused to vary in length, or change its direction, it "will" also set up these radial vibrations. These must necessarily be accompanied with a current, however, as they are entirely distinct from, those dependent upon the latter. No, not necessarily, as the variations of the current strength, an immense current may exist, but if it does not do so, there would be no radial vibration.

The Colonel was a religious man, and he was very religious and managed just as much as any other man, but he had a campaign, to impress his men with due fear of the hereafter. He was bold, and as the result he made preparations to march ten of his men to the front, and the marching party reached Col. Dave's ears. His pride was cut.

The situation seemed more and more unbearable to him, and he ordered out his men with grim determination in his face. When they were drawn up the colonel rode down the lines. Then he "My men," said he, "You have confidence in me, haven't you?"

"Yes, sir," said they as if they wondered what had sized the Colonel.

"If I should ask for volunteers to storm a works redoubt in the rear, would you be willing to go?"

"Colonel, we are ready," said Henderson.

"I am going to have ten baptised. Now, you can lick his ass today, and I don't propose you shall be beaten this way if I can."

"How many of you are willing to be baptised?"

"Are you sure we don't have to do anything afterwards?"

"We'll do anything you like, only get baptised. I want a lot of you." On the Colonel's assurance that it was only necessary to be baptised once, the men saluted and twenty of the men came forward. The Colonel was radiant. His men still kept up their record, and the rifle corps followed him down the line, led down into the water. It was with great surprise that he saw them followed by double the number from Henderson's regiment.

There was a murmur of surprise, while the Colonel waited for his men to come up to execute the baptism. He began to walk around, when one of the men saluted and said:

TAMMANY IS LOYAL.

The Tigers Will Vote for the Chicago Nominee.

CHIEFTAIN CROKER OUTLINES THE POLICY OF THE REGULARS.

II CLEVELAND IS NOMINATED HE WILL BE SUPPORTED BY THE NEW YORK DEMOCRACY—PROPOSED COALITION IN THREE WESTERN STATES TO DEFEAT REPUBLICANS—GENERAL POLITICAL NEWS.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Richard Croker, Tammany's chieftain, was quoted as saying he believed that Senator Hill was the coming man and would be nominated and elected. This was at the end of an interview in which Mr. Croker defined the position of Tammany as to the National Convention and criticized the action of the Democrats who made up the Syracuse Convention.

Mr. Croker was asked last night if he had been accurately reported as to Mr. Hill being the coming man. "I did not say that," Mr. Croker said. "I have been misquoted. I did not make that statement."

Mr. Croker was asked what course Tammany would pursue at the National Convention. He said Tammany's delegation would vote for Senator Hill. It has been instructed to do so by the State Convention and it would be dishonorable on its part not to do so. Mr. Croker was then asked what the Tammany organization would do in the event of Mr. Cleveland's nomination.

"Tammany will give him its most loyal support, of course. Why, what else could we do? Everybody ought to know that we would do that. If we did not we would not be Democrats. We would read ourselves out of the Democratic party and make ourselves Republicans."

It is reported that Chairman Murphy of the Democratic State Committee has summoned the delegates elected to Chicago by the February convention to meet him at the Hoffman House next Tuesday. It is thought he intends to emphasize the instructions given them at the convention regarding the support of Hill for the Presidency. The call simply announces "to consult on matters pertaining to the delegates' work at Chicago." The call also apprises the delegates of the purpose of framing a line of action in regard to the Syracuse contestants and to appoint committees and speakers to appear before the National Committee to argue the claim of the regular delegation. The delegation was to meet at the Statute Club, 17th and Locust, the fact that the contestants are to go on the 16th a new date will be set or else a special committee will leave a few days before.

MITCHELL NOMINATED.

FLORIDA ALLIANCE MEN WIN A VICTORY—ALL-NIGHT SESSION.

TAMPA, Fla., June 3.—Just before midnight the Democratic Convention completed its permanent organization, electing Samuel J. Turnull of Jefferson County First Vice-President and Fred Meyer of Leon Second Vice-President. The two-thirds rule finally prevailed by an overwhelming majority, and the Alliance men, who had been nominated by Mitchell and his backers pressed it all the harder against great opposition, but this gradually gave way to the inevitable, and the Alli- was nominated by acclamation. No other name was presented. The convention adjourned at noon for T the afternoon, after all forecasts of a combination between Mitchell men and the Alliance are about to be fully realized. The Alliance will get all the seats in the legislature which it wants. A slate is made up that will go through with a rush, Mitchell men think.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

DEMOCRATS WILL VOTE WITH THE PEOPLE'S PARTY—NOTES.

ST. LOUIS, June 3.—Mr. F. M. Har- rington, a prominent Democratic politician of Northern Nebraska said in an interview yesterday that orders have been issued from Democratic headquarters that Nebraska, South Dakota and Kansas must be delivered over to the People's Party. In Nebraska, he added, the Democrats will nominate no electoral ticket this year. The Democrats will have their own state ticket and will support the Alli- electoral ticket. The same will be done in the cities, as mentioned, and while the Democrats will gain nothing, the Republicans will lose in what has been heretofore, their stronghold. The election will be thrown into the House of Representa-

W. STONE'S CAMPAIGN.

WEST PLAINS, Mo., May 8.—Ex-Congressman Stone of Nevada and a Democratic aspirant for gubernatorial honors, spoke to an immense audience at this place this afternoon. The manner in which he handled State and national issues was well received and made him many friends. Mr. Stone made a speech in which he said that he had made him a host of admirers and he but strengthened his hold upon the people of Howell County to-day. Attorney-General Wood was also present and the speaker took. The delegates to the rest of the Democratic State conventions will be selected Monday.

DEMOCRATS WILL CARRY ILLINOIS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—State Senator A. J. O'Connor, of Illinois, in the city. To a reporter he said: "I haven't the slightest doubt that the state and National Democratic tickets will be triumphantly carried this year. The people are with the Democrats on the school and labor questions, and we will get pretty nearly the solid German and Irish vote, and no denying the fact that the Chicagoans are the chosen of the Illinois Democracy, and with him we can carry the State."

EAST GOING FOR BRECKENRIDGE.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., June 3.—Hon. G. E. Breckenridge, Democratic candidate for Congress from this district, after several weeks of hard campaigning in the western part of the district, arrived here and left again last night for Grant County to make more speeches. Sumpter, his opponent, has been away from home, but his leader Breckenridge master of the situation and he feels it his duty to continue his canvassing in the interest of Democracy. He is well and very cheerful.

DELEGATES TO CHICAGO.

LEWISTON, Me., June 3.—The second District Democrats have nominated delegates to the Chicago Convention and instructed them to vote for Cleveland.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 3.—The Ninth Congressional District Democratic Convention has elected W. J. Colburn and William H. Bowles of Fremont as delegates to Chicago, while L. C. Cole of Bowling Green, Frank J. Smith of Toledo and C. E. Worden are the alternates.

HIS OWN SUBJECT.

But the Difficulty Was to Hit Upon It—A Hard Customer.

From Leader Tid-Bits.

A certain enthusiast made it a rule to talk of something really important with every person he met, and he was so successful that few people could find common ground for conversation if they only knew how and would exchange thoughts. He had tried all the usual expedients, had made suggestions after suggestion, offered leading remarks, asked questions, used the resources of courteous questioning. In every direction he had been stopped by polite monosyllables that gave no opportunity for further conversation.

There was no indication of aversion to conversation on the part of the other, but simply an appearance of hesitating humility and distrust of himself. This would never do. It would not fit in with the enthusiast's theories. Finally, frankly and rather despondently, he said:

"This fellow is thoroughly anxious to make your acquaintance, to talk with you upon some theme of mutual interest. I do not know what it is, but it is on common ground. Can you help me? If you will suggest a subject of interest to you upon which you are well informed, our converse shall be most happy to attempt it!"

Whereupon the other, visibly brightening and leaning forward, confidentially answered: "Just try me on leather!"

DIAMOND MARQUEE RINGS.

Novelties in Emeralds, Rubies, Sapphires, Fancy Pearls and Diamonds.

One of the most striking features of the great Mermad & Jaccard jewelry establishment, corner Broadway and Locust, is their remarkable collection of Mardi Gras.

Visitors to every part of the Union consider it as without a peer in variety, beauty and quality, and the immense sales also demonstrate that the prices must be very satisfactory.

To any one unable to call and see this beautiful display, or residing out of the city, a descriptive catalogue will be mailed upon application.

IN HOT PURSUIT.

Officers in Chase of the Santa Fe Train Robbers.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., June 3.—Some fresh details have been received here with regard to the robbery of the Santa Fe train on Wednesday night. An Indian just arrived in the city says that he met on the road leading from the Cherokee strip into the Iowa and Kickapoo reservations six men, all on horses and dressed like Indians. They were members of some detachment under the leadership of William Tilghman, left this city last night. They are well armed, and intend to run the robbers down if it is possible. One of the officers who started out after the Red Rock gang, says that he shot at them, but failed to make sure the train would stop there. If any of the Dalton's are in the gang there are two or three of them aggregating $2,000, and the others are desperadoes.

The Santa Fe had offered a reward of $500 for the capture of each person concerned in the train robbery.

To-Morrow's Flood Fund Game.

The Elks and the Owls will play ball at Sportsman's Park to-morrow afternoon for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Flood Fund and a large and distinguished audience is looked for. The players will appear in grotesque costumes and it will undoubtedly be one of the funniest games ever witnessed in Sportsman's Park.

Both teams will be composed of well-known citizens, even many of whom will play under his protection in a manner entirely original with himself. President Von der Ahe gives the use of the grandstand to the Owls. From the nut street costumer, will uniform the Owls as his contribution to the fund.

The march of the band, courtesy of the Secretary of War, the Cavalry Depot Band, or Arsenal Band, as it is better known, will entertain those present with one of the grandest marches ever heard. It is managed by the Iron Mountain Railroad having kindly agreed to transport the band to and from the barracks without charge. In the evening the band will be entertained for supper at the Laclede Hotel. General Griswold, through Manager Walter Austin, extending the manager's privilege to enter the band room free. Not to be outdone, the prize-winning and plucky boys of the famous Branch Guards will give a grand exhibition under the leadership of their Captain, G. A. Sinclair, assisted by Lieuts. Adolph Marks and Charles Crucelli.

What is possible has been done for the relief of the unfortunate sufferers from the late overflow, considerable is yet to be done, and much more is still needed. The grounds should not be large enough to accommodate the crowd that should turn out to help this good cause.

General Manager Jas. H. Townsend of the Mount City Coupe, Livery & Messenger Co. to-day tendered the free use of two four-wheeled coaches, which will be used in the Iron Mountain Depot to Sportsman's Park, where the Owls and Elks will play ball to-morrow.

LABOR NEWS.

Ashtabula Ore Shipping Embargoed by a Strike.

ASHLAND, Wis., June 8.—The strike of upper dock-men at the ore docks is still on with no prospect of an immediate settlement. The men are determined in their purpose and say they will accept nothing but 14 per day and 20 cents per hour overtime. Yesterday morning the crew of the steamer Mitchell, lying at the Lake Shore docks, attempted to dump enough ore to finish loading the tow, but they were at once driven back to the boat dock by the strikers, who also jumped on the dock foreman. The company is preparing to meet what may be required to work 14.50 and $1.50 per day, and night work and 20 cents per hour overtime. The men held a meeting, but flatly refused the company's offers. There are twenty-five vessels tied up.

FOREIGN NEWS.

No Remedy for Swindled Americans—Brief Cablegrams.

London, June 8.—The authorities of Scotland Yard have information from the American Consul that they cannot arrest William Lord Moore, who is said to have swindled many Americans through his claim agency, unless some of his American victims incur the cost of coming to London to prosecute him. The American consulate has for a long time been trying to break up the swindling business carried on by Moore, who has been in the habit of deluding a certain class of Americans that they had to pay him to insure properties and estates in England, that he will procure for them upon the payment of a comparatively small sum. Of course the claims are entirely mythical, but this has not prevented Moore from making a very fat living.

Mr. JOHN H. THOMPSON, Ottawa, Ontario, June 8.—Sir John Thompson has not accepted the position of British representative in the Bering Sea arbitration, which has been offered to him by Lord Salisbury. It is not clear whether he will do so. It is in political circles that it would be unwise for one who is practically the chief advocate of Canada to take such a position, because if the decision of the arbitration power, which Sir John should be in a position to influence, is against Canada, it would be one of deep humiliation.

ITINERANCY AND METHODISM.

Change is a constant factor in life. Stagnation is marked upon man, society and universal nature. But these changes in nature, man and society, are not always for the better, nor do they always signify progress. They may bring about changes which are for the worse.

Such a change, however, is that now proposed by the Committee on Itinerancy of the Methodist General Conference in Ohio.

AN APPEAL FOR HELP FROM SUBMERGED ARKANSAS COUNTIES.

Six Thousand Negroes to Be Supported by the Planters and Merchants of One County—A Picture of Bankruptcy and Desolation—Estimates of Damage by the Illinois Board of Health.

Reports of desolation among the flood victims are coming in and show that too much cannot be done to aid them in getting on their feet. Dr. W. F. Reilly, Secretary of the Illinois State Board of Health, has made a personal examination of the country below East St. Louis and has received returns with estimates of damage from nineteen counties. In two counties alone, Monroe and Randolph, there is an area of 166 square miles, under from two to ten feet of water; 88,000 acres of cultivated lands are damaged to the amount of $2,000,000. More than 10,000 families of 6,000 persons have been dislodged from their homes, and many of them are absolutely destitute. Dr. Reilly estimates that at least $30,000 will be needed to set those people up again. These two counties are, perhaps, the most to be pitied, but it is estimated that the draft was about the same for the whole submerged district will be a very large one.

THE SITUATION IN ARKANSAS.

The following letter calls attention to a very serious condition in Arkansas. The point made by the writer is that the map of his property of his letter is timely and very well made. The planters and merchants of Arkansas are bearing the whole burden of the support of the thousands of negroes who are helpless and suffering. It is only a question of time when the negroes will turn upon the face. They have earned the good will of St. Louis in the days of their prosperity, and as Mr. Atkinson puts it, should be a pleasureable duty of the people of St. Louis to help them in their adversity.

214 N. CARLTON ST., St. Louis, June 3.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I just received a letter from Mr. Z. T. Carlton of Messrs. Carlton & Bryan, merchants and large planters of Lumbard, Clinton County, Ark. It reads as follows: "Sir:—I am sorry to inform you that the condition of things in our state is becoming daily worse. We are unable to get any information from your Exchange as to what our people are willing to help the suffering people of this country. Nearly all the negroes in our state are now destitute. They are known as the bed of the lake, and there are in the overflooded part of our county six or eight thousand negroes now homeless. There is bound to be a great deal of suffering if they do not receive help. Please let me know what you propose in the way of getting meat and bread and feed for the negroes. We have no supplies to be shipped. It is hard to be needed at Galena, Lumbard, Lucas, Wards, Clark, telling how the supplies ought to be shipped. Yours truly,

T. CARLTON."

Knowing that the Post-Dispatch is due the credit of having raised $10,000 for the Arkansas relief fund, made up not only by the large amount turned out by the citizens of St. Louis, but also by general contributions to the Exchange fund, caused by the widespread and intense interest your paper has taken in the welfare of the negroes.

The Post-Dispatch Flood Relief Fund now amounts to $16,815.53. There is need for more money, and we hope that you will contribute. This report from Arkansas opens out a still wider field for the exercise of charity. The negroes should not be allowed to feel that they are inferior to us, and it is by no means certain that the worst is over.
